General Counsel
and President,
Global
Commercial Sales

Thomas Tshudy serves as Vice President and General Counsel for United Launch Alliance (ULA), as well as the President of Global Commercial Sales. In his role for Global Commercial Sales, Tshudy is responsible for the team that markets and sells Atlas V launch services to commercial customers. He will also be responsible for commercial launch service sales on the Vulcan Centaur launch vehicle currently in development at ULA.

Before joining ULA, Tshudy served as Senior Vice President and General Counsel for International Launch Services, Inc. (ILS). Previously, he served as Vice President and General Counsel at Lockheed Martin Corporation while ILS was a subsidiary to sell and market launch services provided on the Atlas II, III and V launch vehicles. Tshudy also served as Division Counsel for the Delta II launch vehicle and International Space Station programs and later as the Business Director for Reusable Launch Vehicle programs at McDonnell Douglas Corporation.

Tshudy holds a bachelor's degree in political science from Pennsylvania State University, a master's in business administration from University of California Los Angeles and a Juris Doctorate from the Dickinson School of Law at Pennsylvania State University.
